Tourism Promotion has become our special project during these uncertain times. Tourism is the world's largest industry. Prior to the pandemic, according to the National Travel and Tourism Week (NTTW) the travel industry was a powerful economic engine, supporting jobs and driving local economies in every pocket of America. The industry had experienced 107 straight months of growth, generated $2.6 trillion in economic output, supported 17 million American jobs and delivered a $51 billion trade surplus to the U.S.

It is estimated that more than 22.5 million people visited the State of Alabama during 2020, spending $13.3 billion, creating 165,230 jobs (direct & indirect), and generating more than $890 million in state and local tax revenues. While Tourism bounced back strongly in 2022, driven by pent-up demand and the lifting of travel restrictions, the international travel remains 54.6% below pre-pandemic. The recovery is fragile with new uncertainties from the economic slowdown & geopolitical instability.

The Multicultural Communities within Alabama and throughout the world have always been instrumental in increasing Tourism Revenues for Alabama, for employment and our economic growth. Let's work together to help each other.

Alabama History & General Information

Alabama has a lot of history, starting as home to indigenous population for thousands of years, including Cherokees, the Alabama, Chickasaw, and several other tribes. The French arrived in 1702, but Alabama was controlled by many European powerhouses before becoming a US state in 1819.

The state has always been at the center of American social issues, from its role as the capital of the Confederacy (1861) during the Civil War to its status as the birthplace of the Civil Rights Movement in the 1960's, with leaders like Rosa Parks, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and many more, who became the flashpoint for the Civil Rights Movement, making Alabama a leader in pursuing equality & freedom, changing America and the world.

Alabama's booming economy of the 1820s and 30s was heavily reliant on the vital cotton industry; with perfect land for the crops, this state was the center for cotton growth, with large plantations across the state relying almost exclusively on slave labor.

With industrialization, good government, hard-working & disciplined citizens and significant foreign investment ($4.2 billion in 2019), Alabama has become the fifth largest automobile manufacturing state in the nation, as well as an important center for higher education & bio-technological research, including Air University at the Maxwell-Gunter Air Force Base, located on the site of the Wright Brothers' first civilian flying school.

More than 30 of the biggest international manufacturers are now based in Alabama, producing goods from Passenger jets to minivans and exporting to roughly 200 countries every year.

The culture of Alabama is intricately tied to African-American heritage and an incredibly rich tradition of music and literature that spans from the country bluegrass of Hank Williams to the iconic American novel To Kill a Mockingbird.

The twin establishment of the Equal Justice Initiative (EJI) and the National Memorial for Peace and Justice (informally known as the National Lynching Memorial), perched on a hill overlooking downtown Montgomery, were founded by Bryan Stevenson, whose book "Just Mercy" (made into a feature film) depicts his work on behalf of the unjustly imprisoned and other victims of institutional racism. The memorial stuns most visitors, as it features hundreds of steel monolithic monuments to lynching victims across the nation, and calls communities to confront ugly truths rather than sweep them under the rug.

Alabama is increasingly becoming a multicultural state, attracting thousands of highly skilled professionals from around the world, bringing foreign cultures from Africa, Asia, Europe, the Middle East, Latin America and the Pacific Islands. There is also a significant migration of African Americans back to Alabama in recent years, mainly because of its culture, hospitality, friendliness and family oriented atmosphere.

Major Multicultural Population

The largest population of foreign heritage in Alabama are individuals of Irish origin followed by the Hispanics population. There is a sizeable & rapidly growing population of Asians in the region.

□ 2010 U.S. Census: A Profile of the Asian Population

- While the total U.S. population grew by 9.7 percent to 308.7 million in 2010, the Asian population grew more than four times faster than any other racial group. The Asian alone population increased from 10.2 million in 2000 to 14.7 million in 2010, registering a 43 percent growth. Likewise, the Asian alone-or-in-combination population increased by 46 percent as it grew from 11.9 million in 2000 to 17.3 million in 2010.
- The Asian population grew in all regions of the U.S. The alone-or-in-combination population grew the fastest in the South, boasting a 69 percent increase. This is followed by a 48 percent growth in the Midwest, a 45 percent growth in the Northeast, and a 36 percent growth in the West. While more Asians alone or in combination reside in the West, their overall proportion declined by three percentage points. Roughly 75 percent of the Asian population lives in ten states: California, New York, Texas, New Jersey, Hawaii, Illinois, Washington, Florida, Virginia, and Pennsylvania. Of these ten, Texas, Florida, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Washington, and New Jersey recorded the highest growth rates. Although the Asian population increased in all fifty states, it still represents less than 2 percent of the total population in West Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama, Kentucky, Arkansas, South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, South Dakota, North Dakota, Maine, and Vermont.
- Asian subgroups also experienced growth. The Chinese alone-or-in-combination population is the largest detailed Asian group with a population of four million. While the Bhutanese population remains proportionally smaller than that of other detailed Asian groups, it recorded the fastest growth, increasing from 200 in 2000 to 19,000 in 2010. Asian Indians recorded the largest growth with a 68 percent increase from 2000. Filipinos followed with a 44 percent increase; the Vietnamese, 42 percent; Koreans, 39 percent. The Japanese recorded the slowest growth at 14 percent. Together, the Asian Indians, Chinese, and Filipinos form 60 percent of the Asian alone population.

Millions of Good Samaritans volunteer at local hospitals, clinics, community centers, libraries, schools and other organizations to help the seniors, shut-ins and others who need help. Volunteers play a crucial role, and it is the best way to give-back to your community. Research shows that volunteering also keeps you happy & healthy.

Mentoring to the youth and adults is most rewarding. With your experience, knowledge and know-how, you can help fulfill the skills-gap, improve their career and upward mobility.

This is a great opportunity for you, the community and the organizations. The Multicultural Council will provide you with a short, online training to become a happy, healthy and successful volunteer and/or mentor.

If you are an organization, looking for volunteers or a mentor – please send your request through this website to info@multiculturalcouncil.org

The Multicultural Council maintains a ‘Resource Directory’ of all qualified & available Volunteers, Mentors and Organizations that need them. Kindly send your detailed information, enabling us to ‘match’ you with the right person or organization.

Some of those requests may be listed hereunder for FREE:
